

Removing Temporary Ovarian Suspension Stitches

- Ovarian suspension has been done after your surgery to reduce post operative adhesions.
- The dissolvable stitches (blue coloured stitches) may be released after 5-7 days post operatively.
- Your GP or practice nurse can do this by simply cutting on one side of the knot and gently pulling the knot. This may cause some discomfort but should not cause significant pain.
- If the suture is cut and retracts into your abdomen, please don't worry. This suture is dissolvable.
