2 Introduction

Ashford & St Peter's NHS Foundation Trust, and the people who work with and for us, collaborate closely with other organisations, delivering high quality care for our patients.

These partnerships have many benefits and should help ensure that public money is spent efficiently and wisely; however there is a risk that conflicts of interest may arise.

Providing best value for taxpayers and ensuring that decisions are taken transparently and clearly, are both key principles in the NHS Constitution. We are committed to maximising our resources for the benefit of the whole community. As an organisation and as individuals, we have a duty to ensure that all our dealings are conducted to the highest standards of integrity and that NHS monies are used wisely so that we are using our finite resources in the best interests of patients.

This Policy is also in accordance with the Trust's own 4 values:

- 'Patients First'
- 'Personal Responsibility'
- 'Passion for Excellence'
- 'Pride in our Team'

3 Purpose

This policy will help our staff manage conflicts of interest risks effectively. It:

- Introduces consistent principles and rules
- Provides simple advice about what to do in common situations.
- Supports good judgement about how to approach and manage interests

This policy should be considered alongside these other organisational policies:

- Standing Orders
- Terms and Conditions of Employment
- Scheme of Delegation and Standing Financial Instructions
- Personal and Family Relationships Policy

4 Key Terms

A 'conflict of interest' is:

"A set of circumstances by which a reasonable person would consider that an individual's ability to apply judgement or act, in the context of delivering, commissioning, or assuring taxpayer funded health and care services is, or could be, impaired or influenced by another interest they hold."

A conflict of interest may be:

- Actual - there is a material conflict between one or more interests

Volume 1 Organisational & Finance	First ratified June 2021	Next review June 2023	Issue 1	Page 5 of 19
---	-----------------------------	--------------------------	---------	--------------

- Potential – there is the possibility of a material conflict between one or more interests in the future

Staff may hold interests for which they cannot see potential conflict. However, caution is always advisable because others may see it differently and perceived conflicts of interest can be damaging. All interests should be declared where there is a risk of perceived improper conduct.

5 Interests

Interests fall into the following categories:

- Financial interests:
Where an individual may get direct financial benefit* from the consequences of a decision they are involved in making.
- Non-financial professional interests:
Where an individual may obtain a non-financial professional benefit from the consequences of a decision they are involved in making, such as increasing their professional reputation or promoting their professional career.
- Non-financial personal interests:
Where an individual may benefit personally in ways which are not directly linked to their professional career and do not give rise to a direct financial benefit, because of decisions they are involved in making in their professional career.
- Indirect interests:
Where an individual has a close association† with another individual who has a financial interest, a non-financial professional interest or a non-financial personal interest and could stand to benefit from a decision they are involved in making.

6 Staff

Following implementation of this guidance NHS England has published some frequently asked questions for specific staff groups on the issues posed and how the guidance applies to them. Staff can access the resources here: www.england.nhs.uk/ourwork/coi

At Ashford & St Peter's NHS Foundation Trust we use the skills of many different people, all of whom are vital to our work. This includes people on differing employment terms, who for the purposes of this policy we refer to as 'staff' and are listed below:

- All salaried employees
- Consultants
- Volunteers
- All prospective employees – who are part-way through recruitment
- Contractors and sub-contractors
- Temporary and Agency staff; and

* This may be a financial gain, or avoidance of a loss.

† A common sense approach should be applied to the term 'close association'. Such an association might arise, depending on the circumstances, through relationships with close family members and relatives, close friends and associates, and business partners.

---	-----------------------------	--------------------------	---------	--------------

- Committee, sub-committee and advisory group members (who may not be directly employed or engaged by the organisation)

7 Decision Making Staff:

Some staff are more likely than others to have a decision making influence on the use of taxpayers' money, because of the requirements of their role. For the purposes of this guidance these people are referred to as 'decision making staff'. The decision making staff in this organisation are:

- Executive and Non-Executive Directors (or equivalent roles) who have decision making roles which involve the spending of taxpayers' money
- Members of advisory groups which contribute to direct or delegated decision making on the commissioning or provision of taxpayer funded services
- Those at Agenda for Change band 8d and above
- Administrative and clinical staff who have the power to enter into contracts or who manage budgets on behalf of their organisation
- Administrative and clinical staff involved in decision making concerning the commissioning of services, purchasing of goods, medicines, medical devices or equipment, and formulary decisions.

8 Identification, declaration and review of interests

8.1 Identification & declaration of interests (including gifts and hospitality)

All staff should identify and declare material interests at the earliest opportunity (and in any event within 28 days). If staff are in any doubt as to whether an interest is material then they should declare it, so that it can be considered. Declarations should be made:

- On appointment with the organisation.
- When staff move to a new role or their responsibilities change significantly.
- At the beginning of a new project/piece of work.
- As soon as circumstances change and new interests arise (for instance, in a meeting when interests staff hold are relevant to the matters in discussion).

The policy can be found on the Trustnet: <http://trustnet/documents/index.html>

Declarations will be made on the NHS Electronic Staff Record – Employee Self-Service. An interest should remain on the register for a minimum of six months after the interest has expired. A private record of historic interests should be held for a minimum of six years after the date on which it expired.

12 Management of interests – advice in specific contexts

Strategic decision making groups

In common with other NHS bodies Ashford & St Peter’s NHS Foundation Trust uses a variety of different groups to make key strategic decisions about things such as:

- Entering into (or renewing) large scale contracts.
- Awarding grants.
- Making procurement decisions.
- Selection of medicines, equipment, and devices.

For this organisation these groups are:

- Trust Board
- Modern Healthcare Committee
- Trust Executive Committee
- Capital Control Group
- Commercial Group
- Drugs & Therapeutics Committee

These groups should adopt the following principles:

- Chairs should consider any known interests of members in advance, and begin each meeting by asking for declaration of relevant material interests.
- Members should take personal responsibility for declaring material interests at the beginning of each meeting and as they arise.
- Any new interests identified should be added to the organisation’s register(s).
- The vice chair (or other non-conflicted member) should chair all or part of the meeting if the chair has an interest that may prejudice their judgement.

If a member has an actual or potential interest the chair should consider the following approaches and ensure that the reason for the chosen action is documented in minutes or records:

Volume 1 Organisational & Finance	First ratified June 2021	Next review June 2023	Issue 1	Page 16 of 19
---	-----------------------------	--------------------------	---------	---------------

- Requiring the member to not attend the meeting.
- Excluding the member from receiving meeting papers relating to their interest.
- Excluding the member from all or part of the relevant discussion and decision.
- Noting the nature and extent of the interest, but judging it appropriate to allow the member to remain and participate.
- Removing the member from the group or process altogether.

The default response should not always be to exclude members with interests, as this may have a detrimental effect on the quality of the decision being made. Good judgement is required to ensure proportionate management of risk.

Procurement

Procurement should be managed in an open and transparent manner, compliant with procurement and other relevant law, to ensure there is no discrimination against or in favour of any provider. Procurement processes should be conducted in a manner that does not constitute anti-competitive behaviour - which is against the interest of patients and the public.

Those involved in procurement exercises for and on behalf of the organisation should keep records that show a clear audit trail of how conflicts of interest have been identified and managed as part of procurement processes. At every stage of procurement steps should be taken to identify and manage conflicts of interest to ensure and to protect the integrity of the process.

At the first instance when looking to engage a supplier regarding new equipment or services the procurement team should be contacted for advice to ensure purchases are not delayed or cancelled due to conflicts of interest, further information on procurement processes and procedures can be found here:

<http://trustnet/departments/supplies/docs/Procurement%20Handbook%20Feb%202020.pdf>

Contacts, guides, and policies are available on the Supplies and procurement intranet page: <http://trustnet/departments/supplies/index.html>

13 Dealing with breaches

There will be situations when interests will not be identified, declared or managed appropriately and effectively. This may happen innocently, accidentally, or because of the deliberate actions of staff or other organisations. For the purposes of this policy these situations are referred to as 'breaches'.

Identifying and reporting breaches

Staff who may be aware about actual breaches of this policy, or may be concerned that there has been, or may be a breach. Further information on reporting these concerns can be found here:

Volume 1 Organisational & Finance	First ratified June 2021	Next review June 2023	Issue 1	Page 17 of 19

Counter Fraud and Corruption Policy: <http://trustweb.asph.nhs.uk/policies/finance-policies/counter-fraud-and-corruption-policy/>

To ensure that interests are effectively managed staff are encouraged to speak up about actual or suspected breaches. Every individual has a responsibility to do this. For further information about how concerns should be raised please refer to:

- Freedom to Speak Up: Raising Concerns (Whistleblowing Policy)

The organisation will investigate each reported breach according to its own specific facts and merits, and give relevant parties the opportunity to explain and clarify any relevant circumstances.

7.4. Following investigation the organisation will:

- Decide if there has been or is potential for a breach and if so the severity of the breach.
- Assess whether further action is required in order to address a conflict of interest that has arisen or avoid further conflict of interest – this is likely to involve any staff member involved and their line manager, as a minimum.
- Consider who else inside and outside the organisation should be made aware
- Take appropriate action as set out in the next section.

Taking action in response to breaches

Action taken in response to breaches of this policy will be in accordance with the disciplinary procedures of the organisation and could involve organisational leads for staff support (e.g. Human Resources), fraud (e.g. Local Counter Fraud Specialists), members of the management or executive teams and organisational auditors.

Breaches could require action in one or more of the following ways:

- Clarification or strengthening of existing policy, process and procedures.
- Consideration as to whether action should be taken against staff or others and whether training is required.
- Review of any decisions made that may be affected by the conflict.
- Consideration being given to escalation to external parties. This might include referral of matters to external auditors, NHS Protect, the Police, statutory health bodies (such as NHS England, NHS Improvement or the CQC), and/or health professional regulatory bodies.
- Legal action, such as investigation and prosecution under fraud, bribery and corruption legislation.

Inappropriate or ineffective management of interests can have serious implications for the organisation and staff. There will be occasions where it is necessary to consider the imposition of sanctions for breaches.

Sanctions should not be considered until the circumstances surrounding breaches have been properly investigated. However, if such investigations establish wrong-doing or fault then the organisation can and will consider the range of possible sanctions that are available, in a manner which is proportionate to the breach. This includes:

- Employment law action against staff, which might include

Volume 1 Organisational & Finance	First ratified June 2021	Next review June 2023	Issue 1	Page 18 of 19
---	-----------------------------	--------------------------	---------	---------------

- Informal action (such as reprimand, or signposting to training and/or guidance).
- Formal disciplinary action (such as formal warning, the requirement for additional training, re-arrangement of duties, re-deployment, demotion, or dismissal).
- Reporting incidents to the external parties described above for them to consider what further investigations or sanctions might be.
- Contractual action, such as exercise of remedies or sanctions against the body or staff which caused the breach.
- Legal action, such as investigation and prosecution under fraud, bribery and corruption legislation.

Learning and transparency concerning breaches

It is recommended that in the case of a significant breach, a report with the impact, resolution and action taken should be considered by the relevant sub board committee; e.g. Audit & Risk, Digital, Modern Healthcare, People and Quality for transparency and assurance.

14 Review

This policy will be reviewed in two years unless an earlier review is required. This will be led by the Corporate Affairs Team.
